Join Us for Our Upcoming Public Open House Series

The San Jacinto RFPG invites you to participate in a series of in-person public open houses. These meetings are an important opportunity for you to share your local knowledge early in the process and help inform the development of the 2028 Regional Flood Plan. Draft existing condition flood hazard maps will be available for review. Your feedback is essential to ensure these maps accurately reflect known local flood risks and historical flooding in your neighborhood. All interested members of the public are encouraged to attend. Together, we can help reduce flood risks and build a more resilient region!

Details on dates, times, and locations for the in-person public meetings are included below.
